Three Campus Graduate Curriculum Committee Report

The Three Campus Graduate Curriculum (3CGC) Committee reviews and approves minor and major changes to existing three-campus doctoral-stream and St. George-based professional and non-doctoral graduate programs, as well as proposals for new multi-campus and St. George-based graduate programs, in Arts and Science graduate units. The Committee composition includes faculty, staff, graduate students and academic administrators. Its decisions are reported to the Arts and Science Council for information.

MEETING SUMMARY
November 8, 2011

Minor Course Changes

New Courses

Department of Chemistry
- CHM1445H - Coherent Control of Molecular Processes
- CHM1482H - Laser Spectroscopy and Photophysics

Department of East Asian Studies
- EAS1497H – Special Topics in East Asian Studies

Department of French
- FRE1202H - Literature Seminar I: Literary Theory
- FRE1203H - Literature Seminar II: Literary Periods
- FRE1204H - Literature Seminar III: Literary Genres

Department of Geography and Program in Planning
- GGR1211H - The Global Carbon Cycle: from Rubisco to the earth’s mantle
- GGR1215H - Advanced Watershed Hydroecology
- JPG1502H - Global Urbanism and Cities of the Global South
- JPG1503H - Space, Time, Revolution

Master of Global Affairs
- GLA2095H - Master of Global Affairs Reading Course

Department of Linguistics
- JAL1155H - Language and Gender

Department of Political Science
- POL2411H - Topics in Asian Politics

Department for the Study of Religion
- RLG3515H - Law, Ethics and Society in the Islamic Tradition

Department of Sociology
- SOC6016H - Social Demography
Department of Spanish and Portuguese
- SPA2060H - Literature and Society of Castile in the Late Middle Ages and Early Renaissance
- SPA2415H - Disability and Latin American Cultural Production

Department of Statistics
- STA4247H - Point processes, noise and stochastic analysis

Women and Gender Studies Institute
- WGS1026H - Special Topics in Race and Feminism
- WGS1027H - Special Topic in Queer Studies and Feminism
- WGS2000H - WGS Research Seminar

Minor Program Changes

Adding Degree Program to Existing Collaborative Program
- Dynamics of Global Change Collaborative Ph.D program – addition of Higher Education, Ph.D., OISE
- Collaborative Master’s Program in Jewish Studies – addition of Master of Museum Studies, Faculty of Information

Program Requirement Change

Department of Anthropology - PhD
Brief Summary of Proposed Change(s):
Changing due date of thesis proposal from the end of the third session to the end of the second session of the 2nd year of the PhD program for students who enter the PhD program with a Master’s degree. Changing the due date of the thesis proposal from the end of the third session to the end of the second session of the 3rd year of the PhD program for direct entry students.

Department of Ecology & Evolutionary Biology - PhD
Brief Summary of Proposed Change(s):
The time window for the appraisal exam is changed from 18-20 months to 18-26 months for students coming in by direct entry or transferring from the MSc to the PhD program.

Department of French – MA and PhD in French Literature
Brief Summary of Proposed Change(s):
The existing required graduate seminar in literature (FRE 1200Y) is being divided into the following two half (H,F) courses: FRE 1202H: Literary Theory and FRE 1203H: Literary Periods. A third required course is being created as well: FRE 1204H: Literary Genres. All M.A. students will be required to take these three courses. Doctoral students will also be required to take them, unless the equivalent of any or all of these three courses has already been completed at the M.A. level. This will be determined upon the student’s admission to the doctoral program. As was previously required for FRE1200Y, students must maintain a minimum of mid-B for FRE1202H, FRE1203H and FRE1204H. Although the number of electives in the M.A. program will be reduced, the... overall FCE requirements are not being changed for either the M.A. program or the Ph.D. program in French Literature.

Program Name Change

Graduate Centre for the Study of Drama – MA, PhD

Brief Summary of Proposed Change(s):
Proposal to change the name of the Centre’s graduate programs from ‘Drama’ to ‘Drama, Theatre, and Performance Studies’