II. Specific Duties of the Secretary

II.1

While the duties of the Secretary are outlined in the Constitution, in addition he or she shall attend all meetings of the Council, and keep regular minutes of all the proceedings thereat. The Secretary shall prepare and maintain a record of the current membership (including alternates, if there be any) with their email addresses. The Secretary may use such means as he or she deems necessary to record the proceedings of the Council; the Secretary shall attend, as far as possible, all meetings of committees, and keep records of the proceedings.

The Secretary shall prepare all resolutions, reports or other papers, which the Council may direct, and all copies which may be required of any such documents or papers. He or she shall prepare and countersign all official documents, and generally discharge such other duties as may be assigned by the Council or, when the Council is not in session, by Agenda Committee.

III. Procedures for Notice of Meetings and Distribution of Materials

III.1
All communication shall take place via email or paper correspondence. Any notice of meeting shall be sufficiently given if it is sent to the member’s email address as clearly registered with that year’s current University of Toronto Directory, and if it has an email stamp marked four business days prior to the meeting date. In the case of student members, the email address provided on election nomination forms shall be used. Should any members wish to use an email address other than that published in the Directory, notice must be sent to the Secretary of the Council.

III.2
A copy of the Agenda shall accompany the Notice of Meeting. The Agenda shall be observed by the Chair in bringing matters before the Arts and Science Council at all meetings, and no variation from it shall be allowed, except by a two-thirds vote of the members present and voting, which shall be taken without debate.

III.3
All substantive motions, including reports of Committees, must be received by the Secretary at least ten days in advance of the day of the meeting at which they are to be discussed. They shall be considered by the Agenda Committee and the form of the motions shall be set out on the Agenda.

IV. Rules of Procedure

IV.1 Role of the Chair
It is the duty of the Chair to maintain order and decorum, read motions to the meeting so that they may be debated, decide questions of order and procedure, submit motions or other proposals to the meeting for its decision by a vote, and to adjourn the meeting when its business is concluded.

The Chair has the responsibility of ensuring that the rights of individuals as members are upheld and respected. He or she also has the responsibility and authority of ensuring, as far as possible, that the business before the meeting is expedited and facilitated, and that deliberate systematic dilatory efforts on the part of a member or small group are ruled out of order.
| IV.2 | The Chair of each meeting shall conduct the proceedings in conformity with the rules of order enacted by the Council. In matters that arise that are not provided by Council, proceeding shall be in conformity with the rules given in Bourinot’s Rules of Order, revised by J.G. Dubroy (McClelland and Stewart Ltd., Toronto, 2nd Ed., 1995). |
| IV.3 | The Chair shall rule on all points of order. The Chair’s ruling may be challenged by any member, and in such case the meeting shall decide by the majority of the members present and voting, but without amendment and without debate. |
| IV.4 | Parliamentarian The Dean shall appoint a member of the staff of the Faculty who shall be given the responsibility of making himself/herself thoroughly familiar with the Rules of Procedure, and who shall be available at all meetings as a Parliamentarian to assist the Chair as required by him/her in the interpretation and application of the Rules of Procedure. |
| IV.5 | The Chair may at any time call any member, including the member who is speaking, to order. Save as aforesaid, no member shall interrupt any other member while the latter is speaking. A member called to order by the Chair shall sit down. |
| IV.6 | Any member who indicates lack of respect for the authority or dignity of the Chair or of the meeting shall be first called to order by the Chair. If the indication of this lack of respect persists the Chair shall name the member and the member so named shall thereby be suspended from participation in the balance of the meeting and in such further meetings as the Chair may direct. While so suspended a member may not be recognized by the Chair to speak in a debate and may not vote. The ruling of the Chair that a member is named may be challenged immediately after it is given, and the challenge of the ruling shall be decided by the majority of the members present and voting without amendment and without debate. |
| IV.7 | Speaking Rights Any members desiring to speak during a meeting of the Council should signify their intention to the Chair. No member shall speak until recognized by the Chair, and, when so recognized, the member shall then stand and address the Chair. |
| IV.8 | A member may speak more than once to a motion at the discretion of the Chair; the Chair’s decision shall be conclusive. |
| IV.9 | Any member may require the question under discussion to be stated at any time during the debate, but not so as to interrupt a member while speaking. |
| IV.10 | No member shall speak to a question after it has been put to a vote by the Chair. |
| IV.11 | All questions which come before the Council shall be decided by a majority of members present and voting unless otherwise specifically provided herein; but in the case of equality of votes, the question shall be deemed to be negative. |
| IV.12 | Voting When a question is put to vote by the Chair, the Chair shall ask the yeas and the nays to indicate their vote in such a manner as the Chair may direct. The Chair shall immediately declare the result of the vote, stating that the motion was carried or defeated (as the case may be); the said declaration shall be conclusive. |
| IV.13 | In those cases where the Chair decides that a count of the vote is required, then the number of yeas and nays shall be counted by the Proctors. The Chief Proctor shall then inform the Chair of the tally. The Chair shall immediately declare the result of the vote, the said declaration to be conclusive. No record of the vote of individual members may be called for. |
| IV.14 | Substantive Motions No substantive motion shall be considered at any meeting of the Council unless it appears explicitly on the Agenda. |
| IV.15 | All motions, except those for adjournment of the meeting or of a debate shall be seconded before being debated or put from the Chair. At the discretion of the Chair, a motion may be required to be put in writing before being debated or being put from the Chair. |
| IV.16 | Save as elsewhere may be specifically provided, no matter once disposed of shall be reconsidered in the same academic year by the same body except by a two-thirds vote of the members present and voting. A motion to reconsider is a substantive motion, and thus subject to the rules pertaining to such motions. |
IV.17 Procedural Motions

When a question is under debate, no motion shall be received by the Chair except for one of the following purposes, and the order of precedence of these motions shall be given:

- To adjourn the meeting. A motion to adjourn the meeting shall always be in order, and shall be decided without amendment and without debate.

- To adjourn the debate. A motion to adjourn the debate shall always be in order, and shall be decided without amendment and without debate. The motion concerned under debate shall appear as a matter of course on the Agenda of the next regular meeting.

- To put the previous question. The “previous question” motion shall be used to decide whether to vote forthwith on the question then under debate and shall be moved with the following words: “That the question under debate be now put” and this motion shall be put forthwith and decided without amendment and without debate. If the motion for the previous question is resolved in the affirmative by two-thirds of the members present and voting, the question under debate shall be put forthwith without amendment and without debate. If it is not carried by a two-thirds majority, debate on the question shall continue.

- To withdraw the motion. When a motion has been made and seconded, it shall be disposed of unless, at the request of the mover and with the consent of the meeting, it be allowed to be withdrawn. In this case, consent is understood if no objection to the motion being withdrawn is made, but if objection is made, the Chair shall put the question “that this motion be withdrawn” which shall be decided without debate by the majority vote of the members present and voting. A motion so withdrawn may be placed on the Agenda of another meeting of the same body in the same academic year.

- To refer or commit. A motion to refer the question back to a Standing Committee or Special Committee, or to commit it to the consideration of a Standing Committee or Special Committee for report, shall, until it is disposed of, preclude all amendments to the main question. The motion is debatable.

V.2. Special Committees

From time to time Council may find it useful to establish Special Committees to consider particular issues. Special Committees are normally formed on the recommendation of the Agenda Committee, when one or more of the following conditions exist:

a) An issue cannot be accommodated easily within a Standing Committee;

b) An issue does not fall readily under an existing Standing Committee;

c) There is need for the participation of experts not represented on the relevant committee.

A recommendation from the Agenda Committee to establish a Special Committee shall include terms of reference, an outline of membership, the anticipated reporting date, and the proposed date of disestablishment.

V.3. General Procedures

V.3.1. All members of all committees, including ex officio members, have voting privileges unless otherwise specified.

V.3.2. There are no alternates allowed for members of the Standing Committees, except as specifically permitted in the By-Laws of Council.
V.3.3. All Committees have the power to co-opt additional voting members, but this requires the unanimous voting of the original membership.

V.3.4. All Committees of the Council shall determine and set their own rules regarding the attendance and participation of observers. Any committee may move into closed session to consider a specific item of business at the request of the majority of those present and voting.

In keeping with the expectation of transparency in University governance adopted by Governing Council, it is expected that all committee meetings will normally be open to the public, with in camera sessions being reserved for those portions of meetings where the benefits of confidentiality outweigh the principle of openness, such as where intimate financial or personal details are being discussed.

V.3.5. All Standing Committees shall report to Council on their deliberations, recommendations, and decisions, as appropriate.

V.3.6. Each Standing Committee shall meet at the call of its Chair.

V.3.7. Unless otherwise stated, one-third of the members shall constitute a quorum for committees.
